

I as a consumer have the right to choose what I listen to. Xm offers a very useful service with traffic and weather updates. To take that away is simply greed on the part of the nab and is in no way in the public interest